8 channels temperature recorder for thermocouples

66

Temperature data loggers for thermocouples up to 8 channels, resistant from -60˚C up to 130˚C, with connectors.

A standard connector (K) is mounted by default and many other connectors are available upon request.

The thermocouples are supplied separately and each one can be provided on request with a calibration certificate.
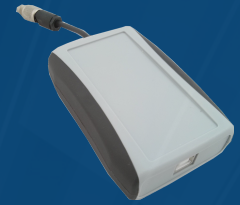

This data logger connects to a PC using the dedicated USB interface.

The software application for Windows system allows the user to calibrate the thermocouples.
